Around AUT campus

AUT opened the South campus (formerly Manukau campus) in 2010, South campus hosts its own library, student lounges, student information centre, course information centre, computer labs, wireless network, and café.

AUT maintains a number of facilities off campus, including the AUT Radio Telescope New Zealand's first radio telescope. The 12m telescope is located near Warkworth and is part of New Zealand and Australia's involvement in the international mega-science project.

The situation and risk that could happen

If you have failed courses in AUT, you need to discuss with your head of program first by sending an email with choosing the 2 option following below:

- You will extend in AUT for 1 semester/ 1 year, to completed the failed course in AUT. Eventhough only 1 course.
- Comeback to BINUS and doing the single degree in BINUS only (not get the degree from AUT).
